

Connecticut Bar Association Young Lawyers Section Presents

The Perils of Vine, Instagram, Snapchat, and Twitter: Legal Considerations of Social Media

Thursday, February 26, 2015

6:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

Quinnipiack Club

221 Church St, New Haven

In 2015, where Facebook is considered “old school,” the evolving world of new social media is constantly churning up interesting legal issues and problems. A panel of diverse experts will present insights on some of the hot issues related to cutting edge social media in a variety of sectors, including employment and law enforcement.

You Will Learn

- About the unique legal challenges of new social media applications such as Vine, Snapchat and Instagram
- How human resources and police departments can use social media content in their investigations
- Examples of how practicing attorneys have run into legal trouble through their social media activity.

Moderator

Britt-Marie K. Cole-Johnson, Robinson+Cole, Hartford

Speakers

David Lat, Above the Law

Daniel A. Schwartz, Connecticut Employment Law Blog,
Shipman & Goodwin LLP, Hartford

Lauri Stevens, LAWS Communications

Event Cost:

Member $10

Non-member $20

Please note: Limited copies of David Lat’s new novel Supreme Ambitions will be available for purchase and signing before the event.

Register online at www.ctbar.org or contact the CBA Member Service Center at (860)223-4400 or msc@ctbar.org.

Presenting Sponsors:

Robinson+Cole

