2009 UPDATE ON LABOR & EMPLOYMENT LAW

Friday, October 30, 2009 – 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon at the Downtown Hartford Marriott

Please join us for our annual fall seminar on October 30, 2009 at the Downtown Hartford Marriott. This promises to be an interesting and informative program regarding recent developments in labor and employment law. Our half-day seminar will include discussions of pandemic preparedness, social networking and its impact on the workplace, and updates on recent developments in the law including the groundbreaking Ricci case.

We hope you will be able to attend. Please fill out and return the reply card as early as possible. In the event that we need to limit attendance, we will honor the reservations of those who respond first.

This seminar will present some of the most recent issues affecting employers in a fun and interactive format. Be prepared to give your “vote” on a variety of issues and see how your choice compares to the other attendees. Remember, every vote counts!

SURFING THE NET:

The Effect of Twitter, Facebook, and Other Social Networking Sites in the Workplace

This session will discuss social networking sites and the questions raised by the use of such sites by employees in the workplace, such as should employees be permitted to access such sites on the job; if so, what restrictions, if any, should be placed on such access; and how can these sites be utilized by employers to recruit and hire new talent.

WHAT HAVE THEY DONE TO US LATELY?

How Recent Legislation and Court Decisions Will Impact Employers

This discussion will explore how the legislature and the courts have treated employers with respect to recent developments in the law. We will also discuss what steps employers should take in reaction to such legislative enactments and case precedents.
